A GREAT DAY FOR ROCKLAND

City Will Give Royal Welcome Thursday To
The General Seafoods Corporation

Rockland is going all out in its official welcome to General Seafoods Corporation which recognizes the opening of its Shipyard and Fisheries Divisions next Thursday. The Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under its chairman, Sam Savitt, has contacted every merchant in the city to display flags and welcome signs on that day.

The Courier-Gazette, at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, will issue a special edition of pages on Thursday which will be distributed to those attending the launching which takes place at 2:30 in the afternoon. This edition will carry history of the growth of General Seafoods and its parent organization, General Foods, as well as the plans which the company has for future expansion in Rockland. The edition will be highly illustrated and will be valued by many as a souvenir of Rockland's progress toward prominence in the fishing industry.

The schedule calls for the launching of the first oyster dragger promptly at 2:30 and the second about 3 o'clock.

Both the shipyard and the fisheries division will be thrown open for public inspection, with guides being furnished to conduct parties through the establishments.

A full schedule of events of the day will be published in the Tuesday edition, together with a list of those company officials and public figures who will be present and who will speak before the launching.

FROM THE BLUEBERRY BARRENS

A Note of Pessimism in the Knox County Area
—Better Down East

Blueberry growers in Knox County are viewing with pessimistic eyes the prospect of a greatly reduced blueberry crop this season—possibly not more than 40 percent, according to word which comes from the West Rockport headquarters of this important industry.

The recent heavy rain came too late to be of much benefit to the crop, and what good it did do was offset by the hot, dry weather following. Berries are beginning to ripen and should there be rain in the next few days they will fill out, but the ripening process will be slowed.

One of the difficulties which the growers encountered was at pollination time, when the dull, wet conditions prevented the bees from working. Frost also affected some tracts. On the morning of June 19 at the pollination period the bloom was heavy and it was hoped that a correspondingly heavy crop would be harvested, but these hopes later faded.

The one bright spot in the situation so far has been on the almost perfect pest control and the use of

A Deal In Oil

The Superior Company Takes Over Colonial Beacon Products

The Superior Gas & Oil Co., owned by Rhama E. Philbrick, will take over the distribution of Colonial Beacon Oil products in September. This line includes Esso gasoline, oils and heating oils as well as Gilbarco burners and Philco radios.

The company will continue to operate from its present location and acquire the several stations of Colonial Beacon Oil Company in the area as well as converting their present stations to the Esso line.

The territory embraced by the new distributorship reaches from Boothbay Harbor to beyond Belfast, covering all of Knox County and a portion of Lincoln and Waldo Counties.

Walter Barstow is plant and office manager for the present company and will continue in the same capacity under the new agency.

DDT has been successful.

From Lubec down in Washington County, comes this word:

A bumper Washington County blueberry crop, with the exception of a few areas affected by early frosts, is indicated in latest reports from the fields covering hundreds of acres in ten towns.

"While a little rain would be a help, the crop is generally in good condition and growers, rakers and packers will benefit by many thousands of dollars.

"Prices to the growers are expected to be as high as $8 or $9 a bushel and expert rakers will make excellent daily pay while the season lasts. A dollar and a quarter a bushel, or possibly more, will be the prevailing remuneration and a good raker can easily take 15 bushels from the bushes in a day.

In Centerville there is one tract of 400 acres, which two years ago yielded a few pints. This year there will be a good crop.

With the sardine season slack and many veterans back from the service it is likely that the labor problem will not be a vexing one.

Four canneries in the county will absorb much of the crop, but many thousands of bushels are shipped out of the county for freezing. A good part of the berries are packed in gallon cans for restaurant use.

Members of Canton Lafayette and Auxiliary will meet Sunday for a picnic dinner at the home of Albert MacPhail. Please take dishes, butter and sugar. Those not solicited take sweets.

NEW SCHOOL FOR ROCKLAND

Option Is Taken On Holmes Street Site—Fourteen Room Grade School Planned

The first broad step in solving Rockland's almost desperate school situation has been taken with the passing of option papers on the four and one-half acre G. H. Blethen estate field on Holmes street, adjacent to Broadway.

On this high ground, ideally located for school purposes, it is proposed to erect a 14-room brick structure, which will adequately house all pupils now attending Purchase street, Crescent street and Grace street schools as well as two grades from McLain school, thus relieving the congestion in part at that overcrowded building.

The next step in the process requires the formation of a School District this to be approved by this Winter's Legislature and then its submission to the voters of this city in referendum. If the citizens approve things will move swiftly as possible to completion of the building.

Citizens generally join the City Council and the School Committee in recognizing the extreme seriousness of the existing conditions of school housing in this city.

The negotiations were made by Albert C. McLoon of the City Council and John M. Richardson of the School Board. Prominent in the minds of the family and negotiators alike was the memory of the late Mayor Blethen's high civic spirit and love of children.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

Very few men get too much credit for the work they do, but it seems that Bob House was overpraised in our last issue. It wasn't his garden in which he was accused of working early and late, but belongs to one of his partners, Austin Sherman, and the latter's son, Bob modestly thinks it might have been the scarecrow which The Roving Reporter saw, for it was there early and late.

A very high stiff collar was exhibited in the display window of E. W. Berry's clothing store many years ago, with the announcement that a box of Chert & Peabody collars would be given to anybody who could wear it. Ed failed to take into account the long-necked barber who was then working in this city. One day the knight of the shears walked into the store and said: "Let me try that collar on." It fitted perfectly, and the barber got a whole box of neck adornments for the feat. It may interest some readers to know that E. W. Berry's store is now occupied by the Quality Shoe Shop.

The 92 barber shops in Greater Portland have jumped the price of haircuts to 65 cents, but have just caught up with Rockland's 35-cent shaves. I can't help thinking that it is a shame to charge 65 cents for some hair-cuts—or even 50 cents. And this is no personal complaint.

Tributes To Curtis

Maine Benefactor Honored In Portland and At Bowdoin College

Cyrus H. K. Curtis would have been heartened by the brighter prospects for his native Portland today than at the time of his death, Cary W. Bok of Philadelphia, his grandson, declared there Wednesday.

When Curtis died in 1933, the Portland for which he always retained deep affection was struggling in the throes of the great depression that gave the city a much different atmosphere than the prosperity it has enjoyed in the past few years, Bok observed.

Bok, a Summer resident of Camden, spoke briefly at a joint luncheon sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, for which more than 500 business and civic leaders gathered to honor the memory of his philanthropist-publisher grandfather.

The late head of the Curtis Publishing Company was extolled by the Rev. Ernest G. Lynch, pastor of the First Parish Church, as "the prototype of every Alger hero who ever strove and succeeded." Curtis' story Lynch declared, is "a reminder that men of vision are always men of faith."

Bowdoin College joined Wednesday in paying homage to Curtis who was one of the principal benefactors of the College. In a chapel address, Glenn R. McIntire, college bursar, cited some of the gifts the famous publisher made to Bowdoin, which in 1913 gave him the honorary degree of master of arts, and in 1927 a doctor of laws degree.

The Sea Scouts

The Sea Scouts held a supper meeting at the Dynamite Beach Wednesday night, to and from it in the "Sea Cow" the new lifeboat. All men were given a turn at the tiller as Coxswain. The meeting was held around a huge campfire and was followed by a story by narrator "Puff" Perry. Those attending were Clifford Cameron, Helen Lynch, Albert Rogers, Gaye Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Roberts, Peter Sildes, Richard Senter, Frank Bridges, Jr., John Joseph Jack Passon, J. A. Perry, Jane Miller, Donald Joseph, William Harriman.

An all-day outing is planned for next Sunday, weather permitting, leaving from the Public Landing at 9 a. m. for a cruise in Penobscot Bay. Stops will be made on several islands for swimming and lunch.

[EDITORIAL]

CONCERNING CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Madison A. Hart of Fruitland Park, Fla., takes us to task for quoting a newspaper statement that the Republican National Committee spent $800,000 trying to stop Roosevelt's election and says that it spent more than $3,000,000. We don't know where the figures which we quoted came from, and we do not know where Mr. Hart gets his. But campaign expenses, as reported, are very elastic, and the figures quoted by this newspaper and Mr. Hart may both be a mile from the mark.

Which leads us to say something we have long had in mind, and that's the report of primary election expenses in Maine. A candidate may cavort all over the State in his expensive motor car, and stop at the most expensive hotels, but the tremendous bills this accumulated form no part of his expense report. But if he publishes a small, but necessary advertisement in the newspapers onto his expense account the item must go. So that a candidate may lawfully say that he spent only a few thousands whereas in reality his expenses may well have mounted into six figures. We marvel that some of the daily newspapers have not expressed themselves in regard to this discrimination. As we said in the beginning campaign expense accounts are jokes. All of them.

Dr. Gallup asked the public the other day whether it approved or disapproved THAT HAS NO TURN

President Truman's handling of the strike problem. The vote showed that 36 percent approved, 49 percent disapproved and 15 percent voiced no opinion. Dr. Gallup says:

"The criticism of White House handling of strikes, as reflected in the above figures, undoubtedly accounts for part of the drop in Mr. Truman's general popularity, as reported by the Institute earlier this week. It was found that, in answer to the overall question, 'Do you approve or disapprove of the way Truman is handling his job as President?' 43 percent said they approve, while 45 percent expressed disapproval and 12 percent had no opinion."

Supporters of Harold E. Stassen, Republican presidential prospect, are highly cheered by the result of the Primary election in Minnesota where his candidate for the Senatorial nomination won an overwhelming victory over Senator Shipstead, outspoken disbeliever in the United Nations. It was frankly admitted in advance of the election that its outcome would be a test of Stassen's strength.

IT'S NOT NEEDED SAYS WHITNEY

labor committee that his organization still stands ready to throw $2,500,000 into the campaign, but is convinced that it will not be necessary.

WHAT WILL NEXT WAR BE LIKE?

with our suspicions aroused as to other hideous devices, we cannot help wondering if there exists on this earth today anybody who is willing to see another war.

WHERE THE INNOCENT SUFFER

In behalf of that campaign it must be said that drunken driving is one of the most serious offenses of modern times, endangering the lives of many innocent persons.

RAISED UNJUST SUSPICION

Russia has had some reasonable grounds for complaints about American "power diplomacy" but Bikini was not one of them. The blast from Moscow against the experiments with the atomic bomb is far-fetched, and could have a diplomatic aim itself.

No one expected the able men who manage Russia to be intimidated by the experiment in the middle of the Pacific. Bomb No. 4 was certainly no more terrifying than its predecessors. And for Russia, which has no big ocean-going navy, its results should have less meaning than those which were shown at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Moreover, the Bikini tests have centered on defense against atomic bombs much more than on offense with them. The questions whose answers American authorities have sought most at Bikini are these: In what degree does the A-bomb reduce the military value of surface ships—and submarines? How can ships be built to provide maximum protection for themselves and their personnel? Above all, Moscow might have noted that the chief reaction of American opinion was not gloating over a new show of power, but concern lest the power destroy civilization.

It is a pity that Bikini should be used to arouse suspicion and animosity. For it is those things which really cause the atomic problem. Reduce or remove suspicion and animosity, then control of the bomb would be simple. Americans need to realize that the bomb may look very menacing from the other side of the fence. But Bikini should be used to spur control, not to spread the ill-will that mainly hampers control.

CAMDEN FORSEES A PENNANT

Playing the Class of Baseball Which Apparently Looks That Way

Coming Games
Tonight—Rockland at Thomaston; Camden at St. George.
Sunday afternoon—Rockland at Vinalhaven.
Wednesday night—Rockland at St. George; Camden at Thomaston.

Dust From The Diamond
The Bath Boys Club split a doubleheader with Belfast Sunday in Belfast. After dropping a 9-5 decision the Boys Club collected four hits and four runs in the nightcap while holding the home club to three runs to break even for the day. Third baseman Philbrick again attracted much attention. "Youth must be served."

Camden's crack ball team is being coached by the secretary of that town's live YMCA, Mr. Mains, who is performing his duties without resorting to the hard-shelled tactics which most coaches think they must indulge in. Mains formerly played on Pennsylvania teams, at second base, and is thoroughly devoted to baseball. His influence with the Camden team is certainly having its effect.

Bob Seliger is a strong advocate of softball, but seldom misses a game of the hard ball variety. And everybody knows when he is present.

The Camden grounds are marked out before every game. When the writer saw this work being done Wednesday night his mind harked back more than half a century to the time when he earned his admission to the old Broadway ground doing the same thing.

Camden defeated Ellsworth 21 to 4 in Camden last Sunday. The boys from the Hancock County metropolis are beginning to think that Knox County has some pretty good teams. Even "Crow" is beginning to have his doubts about Ellsworth's ability.

The shortening days will soon necessitate seven-inning games in the Twilight League. It's no fun playing or watching the eighth and ninth innings in semi-darkness.

The Pirates hit the ball hard and often in Wednesday night's game at Camden but always within the reach of the alert Camden fielders, who certainly gave George Boynton splendid support. On the other hand two hits made by Camden batters took bad bounds over the Rockland fielders' heads and resulted in scores. These are not alibis; they're facts.

St. George is justly proud of its fine team and rejoices over the restoration of the National game in that loyal burg. The attendance at the game on the afternoon of July Fourth may have been the season's largest in the Knox Twilight League.

The Pirates need to take 10 (or more) easy lessons in base-running. Their lapses in Camden Wednesday night were very expensive.

Used A Pitchfork

This Was the Time "Andy" Forgot That He Had a Gun

Raymond L. Andersen of The Courier-Gazette staff blew into the office Wednesday morning and exhibited some business-like porcupine quills. When "Andy" reached his home on upper Talbot Avenue Tuesday his dog greeted him in a subdued frame of humor, and his owner learned the reason when he found that a number of the sharp barbs had entered his hide. "A porcupine," quoth Andy, and he sallied forth into his orchard to see if the animal was sojourning there. The animal was, and Andy despatched him, pronto, with a pitchfork. "Why didn't you use a gun?" he was asked. "Gosh!" said Andy, "forgot I had one."

But the porcupine will take no more liberties with his dog.

A Thrilling Trip

Capt. and Mrs. John G. Snow Make Flight In Connection With a New Novel

Captain John Gilchrist Snow and his wife Florence made a thrilling trip to Cape Cod last week with Edward Rowe Snow, in conjunction with a new book which Snow is writing, "A Pilgrim Returns to Cape Cod." Captain John's part in the new volume concerns the history of the "Edith Nute," built as a four-master in Rockland, Maine, in 1917 and re-named and re-designed as a two-masted Diesel vessel. Four airplanes were used in the expedition. The group took off from Boston at 11 a. m. and were in Chatham, Mass., at 11:25, making the first landing in history at the Chatham airport in a two-engine plane. "Transferring in no time to Cobscook, they landed on the outer or Nauset Beach off Chatham, and soon found the wreckage from the "Edith Nute" in approximately the same position where she was wrecked in November, 1922. After posing for several pictures, both movies and still, Captain John flew back to Chatham, then to Falmouth, and over to Boston. Captain Snow says that the outer beach at Chatham is the graveyard for many a staunch vessel, including the Calvin Orcutt, the Wentworth, the Sparrowhawk (1626), and the

Let the Mailman pay your bills

Write a check for the exact amount of your bill, drop it in the nearest mail box and let the post man do the errand. Save time, tires and trouble.

Besides, your cancelled check, when returned at the end of the month, becomes a legal receipt and the bank's complete transcript of your account is a permanent record of all your payments.

If you carry a balance in proportion to the number of checks drawn, the bank's service costs you nothing. In any case, the charge is small indeed for the convenience and service plus the prestige of paying with a Depositors Trust

ANTISEPTIC METHOD

Diaperwite

Soak 15 hours
Rinse 4 Times

Here's how Diaperwite's remarkable 3-way action works: First, thoroughly wets each fiber. Second, loosens and breaks up clinging sewage-filled dirt. Most important—draws out dirt and germs into emulsified, enteric acid liquid solution that floats away as you rinse.
Thus, diapers come out clean, white, deodorized, unharmed. So why let baby suffer?

MOTHER: Tests for antiseptic action as defined in Bulletin 2183, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, show that diapers soaked overnight in Dia-perwite solution (minimum 15 hours) receive a cleansing and antiseptic action which inhibits millions of germs. So refuse substitutes. At all grocery, drug, chain and department stores, 25c. Diaperwite
Inc., New York.

LIONS START A NEW YEAR

Installations Of the Rockland and Camden Clubs, New District Governor Officiating

The main dining hall of the Thorndike Hotel was well field last night when the Rockland Lions Club held its annual installation.
It was also ladies' night and the presence of a goodly delegation from the Camden-Rockport Club added to the zest which this occasion always provides.

The "happy birthday" song was sung twice at the beginning of the evening's festivities, first for Lion A.W. Gregory, who is 81 today, and secondly for Lion Joshua N. Southard who still has a long way to go to attain that mark but who has enough years to suit him.

Popular Lion songs were rendered while awaiting the initial courses of Nate's nice chicken supper, with Lion Howard Crockett directing and Lion Blake Annis tickling the ivories. Duets by Gil and Bob Laite and a solo by Dave Crockett gained much applause.

King Lion Sam Savitt, singing his swan song, welcomed the guests, and expressed his gratitude for the aid he had received during the year.

District Governor William P.
Kelley of Camden got a grand hand, and proceeded with the installation ceremonies. Wilbur Senter acting as marshal. The new officers are:

President—Frank P. Harding.
Vice Presidents—Howard Crockett
and J. N. Southard.
Secretary and Treasurer—Gerald Grant.
Lion Tamer—Almon B. Cooper,
Jr.
Tail Twister—Carl Griffith.
New Directors—Dana S. Newman and Sam Savitt.

The Lions Club

The new King Lion blushed becomingly at the applause he received, and immediately turned the meeting over to the retiring president, Sam Savitt, as toastmaster.

Perfect attendance pins were presented to James F. Burgess, Bradford Burgess, E. Stewart Orbeton (absent) Wilbur F. Senter, F. A. Winslow and Eugene Stoddard.

Secretary Grant said that 10 new members had been added during the year, three had moved from the city and one had died.

For entertainment the committee offered Artist Everett Blethen, whose offhand sketches drew much laughter and applause, as did Everett's "asides."

Dancing served as the climax to a very pleasant evening.

The Camden Installation

Generous delegations from the Rockland and Belfast clubs helped make a complete success of the Camden-Rockport Club's installation Tuesday night.

It was also ladies' night, and approximately 60 persons sat down to a nice turkey supper in the cosy rooms of the Camden Yacht Club.

While the primary purpose of the meeting was to induct the club's new officers into their stations, the meeting resolved itself into a "Bill Kelley" night in honor of his recent election as district governor. Bill was given several ovations during the evening, and another awaited the new district secretary, Leon O. Crockett.

The Rockland Club had a representative part in the proceedings, Past King Lion Wilbur Senter acting as tall twister, and Past King Lion Sam Savitt as toastmaster.

This And That

By K. S. F.

Through the fragrance of morning air
There comes the joyous roar of train;
Bringing news of dear ones over there, Waging battle through sun and rain.

For assurance of homes again.
Then comes the word and through the air.
The word of peace everywhere;
Our hearts rejoice, our souls declare God's blessings come to all who care.
Peace, blessed peace, kills despair.

"The Winged Word," Maine's quarterly, devoted to the poetic arts for Summer, 1946, has arrived, full up with meat and first stimulating in both poetry and prose.

Charles F. Phillips, president of Bates College, announced that 61 local alumni committees have been organized throughout the United States. The committees will aid in raising $40,000 to enlarge Coram Library and to build a new Men's Commons. The alumni of the College under the chairmanship of Erwin D. Canham of the Class of 1925 and Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, are raising $192-000 of the fund.

Good for Senator Bridges to put a cog, if possible in sending cog to Europe when New England is so short. Send back the German prisoners and put them to work in the Black Forest and in the coal mines where they have plenty of fuel for all their needs. It's too bad to have such short-sighted men in Washington. Now they talk of sending tons of sugar to France and we are so short we are unable to can all that is needed.

These are happy and often called "frozen memories out of the treasure chest of life"—a picture of a mossy roof, a ribboned road in Summer sunlight, and plodding cows with possibly a prancing calf homeward bound at dusk. Laggard lag behind a barefoot boy wistful-eyed and possibly whistling a bit, then singing as he comes to the barnyard gate.

You are cordially invited to an unusual christening next Thursday

Next Thursday, July 18, at approximately 2.30 o'clock, two boats will slide down the ways here in Rockland.

These boats, oyster draggers, will be christened, "Milford," and "Greenport." They are the first peace-time boats to be launched here in Rockland since the war ended.

But there is something far more significant, and unusual, about this christening than meets the eye.

In a broader sense, it is the christening of a new Rockland Industry . . . the beginning of a new partnership for General Seafoods and the town and townsfolk of Rockland.

So, you see, we think it is a mighty important and happy occasion for all of us. You are cordially invited to attend the christening.

Here in Rockland we plan to do more than build boats for our fleet. Here in Rockland we plan to do more than recondition the 40-Fathom Fleet.

This, then, is only the beginning.

Our plans for the future of Rockland are most ambitious.

With your help, we plan to make Rockland one of the finest seafood ports on the Atlantic Coast!

Here in Rockland we intend to erect a fine filleting and fish freezing plant. The plans for it are already on the drawing boards. And the completion of this plan will offer new, permanent employment to many people in Rockland.

Next Thursday, then, ushers in a new era for Rockland. An era in which Rockland will grow in stature. An era of goodwill and prosperity for all of us who live here in Rockland.

And when you get right down to it, that is exactly what we all desire—a better, finer Rockland!
